
good morning!

What's the point of this?

To cover core software development skills:

- How to build programs
- How to automate boring tasks
- How to collaborate
- How to test software
- How to keep track of data
- How to learn more

Not to teach specific languages, tools, or environments
(although the ones we do use should be generally worthwhile!)