Description

Would be slick to demo the tool on an iPad etc. (HARMAN does experiments on iPads), so therefore: one obnoxious aspect of doing a test on iPhone is that whenever clicking a text box, it zooms in very closely. Perhaps this could be mitigated or otherwise improved.
For the comments, it's not great that the focus goes away from the axes every time.
For the survey questions, the question isn't even visible anymore, it's just the text box (see attached).
