- Priority changed from High to Low

I've (temporarily?) removed the first/second/etc author headings in commit:70c163e49aea, reducing the priority of this bug.

It actually seems like quite a tricky problem to me -- particularly the detail that the "second author" would need to be renamed to "first author" if the first author was deleted! Perhaps calls for a Javascript which sweeps through the authors setting all their labels appropriately, and which is called after any change to authors. Ew.

- Status changed from New to Closed

Let's leave this one as it is and close it. I don't think it's ever going to be high enough priority to revisit.
